

DGS Poland Sp. z o.o. (former Oticon Polska Production) is a part of the William Demant Holding, which is the umbrella for a number of independent companies and brands within hearing care and treatment of hearing loss, and with its 8000 employees and revenues of more than EUR 1,1 billion it is a global industry leader within its field.

DGS is the new identity for the internal services organisation in William Demant, aiming to perform a number of functions that cut across the William Demant businesses, including IT, Finance, HR, Production, Quality and Logistics. DGS Poland located in Mierzyn near Szczecin, where over 2000 people are employed, offers important business support services in an efficient and professional manner.

Due to dynamic expansion we are looking for candidates for the position of:

Chemical Engineer

Place of work: Szczecin

As a Chemical Engineer you will be the expert supporting international R&D projects with chemical and material knowledge. You will be accountable for securing biocompatibility of our future products.

RESPONSIBILITIES RELATED TO THE POSITION:

- Responsible for questions related to materials and chemicals and securing biocompatibility in specific R&D projects.
- Conduct chemical tests in relation to introduction of new chemicals and materials
- To be interface between Materials and chemistry at Oticon headquarters office in Copenhagen and production facilities
- Responsible for support to production when implementing new coatings and adhesives in production, process set-up
- Handle chemistry related topics in production (process changes, improvements and optimization)
- Prepare and complete chemistry related documentation as biocompatibility reports in production, durability reports, Material Safety Data Sheets

OUR REQUIREMENTS:

- Bachelor/MS in Chemistry, Chemical Engineering
- 3-5+ years of experience, preferably experience from development of coatings and adhesives
- Fluent English – verbal and written
- Experience with materials like adhesives and coatings mainly based on epoxies, silicones, cyanoacrylates, acrylics and/or within the field of platings, corrosion and soldering processes.
- Ability to work independently
- Energetic team player full of initiative
- Be able to travel to Denmark approximately 1 week per month

NICE TO HAVE:

- Knowledge of: statistics tools, lean manufacturing tools, injection moulding and thermoplastics
- Knowledge about documentation systems and experience with medical devices

Working with DGS Poland, you will have the everyday opportunity to learn new skills and competencies. The atmosphere in our company creates perfect conditions for the promotion of initiatives of employees and their active participation in planning of tasks and selecting the best solutions. In daily work we focus on communication and creativity.

Please write a cover letter and CV in English, adding the clause: in accordance with the Law of Personal Data Protection of 29.08.1997 (Journal of Laws No. 101, item 926) I give my consent to processing of my personal data contained in the offer for the recruitment process in DGS Poland Sp. z o.o.

www: www.dgs.pl/kariera.html

e-mail: kamp@dgs.com

We do not return the applications. We will contact selected candidates.